Dear Lee

Your specially selected card is...

A Tidy House

Clarity and Organization, a Thorough Inventory, an Auspicious Symbol!

If your emotional world feels messy and unruly and you can't seem to get clear, it's time to see how your environment is affecting you. Although your inner world has a huge impact on what shows up in your outer world, the reverse is also true. You can be influenced by the people who populate your daily life and the energy of the objects you surround yourself with—basically, everything in your surroundings. Now is the time for an inventory and full clearing of your environment.

Ask for clarity from your relationships, and do not make assumptions at this time. Clear and unambiguous communication is key. You may choose to let go of some people from your life when this shows up. This is a good thing; otherwise, you might stay in these relationships too long out of a sense of obligation and social courtesy when in truth there is nothing holding you together.

Be impeccable with your word, say what you mean, and be willing to make whatever changes are necessary to clean up your side of the street. If you know you are doing the right thing, it doesn't matter who has an opinion. That said, right now, once you are sure your proverbial house is a tidy one, there is a release of energy to begin new things, to enjoy life, and to know with certainty you are on the right path.

AFFIRMATION: I EMBRACE MY TRUTH, LET GO OF NEGATIVITY AND OPEN MY HEART TO JOY AND NEW LIFE!

With Love, Leo
